Our Services

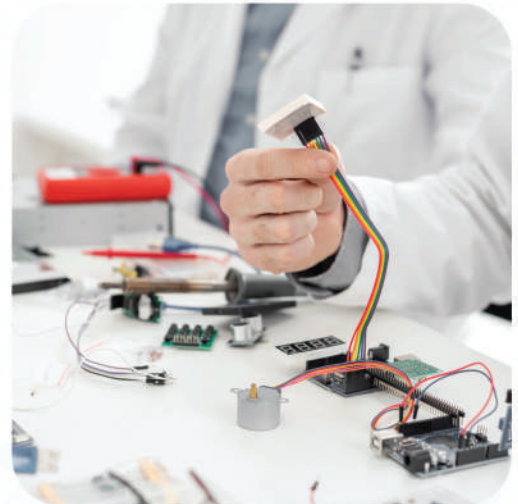

Our medical equipment service is dedicated to providing reliable and efficient maintenance, repair, and calibration for hospitals and clinics. With a team of skilled experts and a commitment to quality, we ensure that your medical equipment runs smoothly, contributing to the highest levels of patient care. Winray offers comprehensive solutions to meet your specific needs.

Clinical Engineering

Clinical engineering is specialized on the effective management and application of medical technology in healthcare settings. Among these services is ensuring that medical devices are safe, reliable, and used most effectively. At Winery, our clinical engineering services ensure that your medical devices operate at peak performance.

Key Services

- Annual Maintenance Contract (AMC)
- Comprehensive Maintenance Contract (CMC)
- Planned Preventative Maintenance (PPM)
- Assets Inventory & Commissioning
- Breakdowns Maintenance
- Multi-brand Maintenance Contract
- User Training

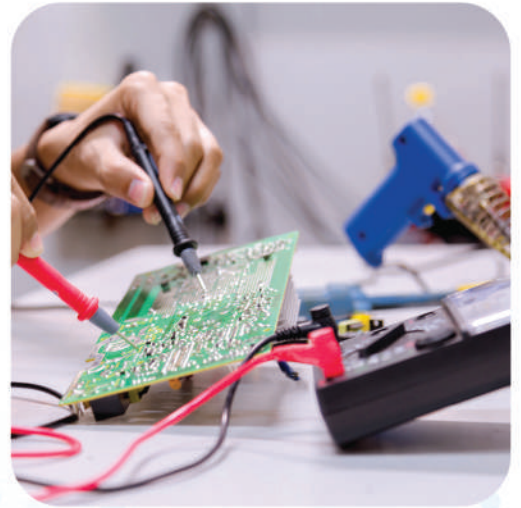

Calibration Service

Calibration is essential for maintaining accuracy in measuring devices in healthcare. It involves adjusting an instrument to ensure its readings fall within an acceptable range by comparing them to known standards. Calibration serves two main purposes: checking the instrument's accuracy and establishing traceability. Winery offers expert calibration services to guarantee that your instruments are accurate and reliable.

Multilayer PCB Repair

The medical sector consists of a wide range of electronic applications aimed at delivering uninterrupted patient care. At Winray, we offer expert multilayer PCB repair services to extend the lifespan of your medical devices. Our skilled technicians are trained to handle complex electronic circuit board repairs, which make sure minimal downtime for critical equipment.

Radiology Equipment Service

Radiology equipment is essential for accurate diagnostics in the medical sector. Regular maintenance ensures that radiology equipment delivers precise imaging, which is very important for effective diagnosis and treatment. At Winray, we provide specialized services to ensure your machines operate at their best.

Ultrasound Probe Repair

Ultrasound probes are critical components of diagnostic imaging systems that are used to capture high-quality images of internal organs, tissues, and blood flow. Faulty probes can lead to incorrect assessments, potentially impacting patient treatment. By understanding the complexities of ultrasound technology, we address issues promptly and make sure diagnostic imaging systems operate effectively, which supports excellent patient care.

Dental Equipment Service

Well-maintained dental equipment is important for delivering high-quality dental care, which helps prevent infections with patience. Winray is dedicated to supporting your dental practice with routine maintenance to emergency repairs and allowing you to focus on delivering the highest level of dental care according to each patient.
